

8 MARCH 2024: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Dear Parents, Carers and Guardians

We hope this newsletter finds you well. As we dive into another exciting week at Truro School, we are delighted to share upcoming events and celebrations with you.

I recently met with the Chair and Vice-Chair from the Friends of Truro School (FTS) to discuss calendar dates. The first date for your diary is the FTS family beach clean on Sunday 21 April from 12pm. All are welcome to attend, please bring a picnic and make an afternoon of it. The beach clean will begin at 2pm.

The next FTS parent coffee morning is being held on Friday 3 May at 8.45am in the Truro School café. All are welcome. More details regarding the FTS, which you are all a part of, can be found here: Friends of Truro School

Further dates will be available on the school calendar, including more summer term events like sports day and this year's Truro School Festival dates.

Truro School Competition House System: As we enter the business end of the year with regards to the eagerly awaited competition house totals, I wanted to remind you that you are all part of a competition house. All staff and pupils are allocated to one of the four competition houses, which means you also have an alliance to a house.

Please do wear the house colours of your child's competition house when you support events this year. The friendly competition within our house system – Smith, School, Vinter, and Wickett – adds an extra layer of camaraderie and school spirit. We are proud of the dedication and sportsmanship displayed by all our pupils. To find out more about our competition house system and the history behind the names, please follow the link School Houses

The current rankings are (with some distance still to go):

School	7302
Vinter	7187
Wickett	6706
Smith	6678

Celebrations: This week marked a vibrant celebration of St. Piran's Day, World Book Day and International Women's Day, featuring a range of engaging activities and thought-provoking discussions. You can read more about these celebrations in the following pages.

Charity Performances: Wednesday evening was our annual charity performance which was one of those moments when you have a real 'wow' moment! 'Wow' at the talent, commitment, courage, sincerity, and dedication of our pupils. This year the charity performances featured a diverse range of acts from pupils across the school.

Proceeds from the event will go towards Charlie's Star, reinforcing the values of generosity and community service. Charlie's mum, Jan attended the concert and spoke about the charity they set up in their son's name. It was moving to hear and cemented the purpose of the evening. Mr Johnson spoke about how proud he was of all the pupils and what a treat it was for us all to see such incredible talent from our community.

We thank you for your support with the above-mentioned events and encourage you to join us in celebrating future events and supporting our pupils as they shine in various arenas. Thank you for being an integral part of the Truro School family, your involvement is crucial in creating a vibrant and inclusive school environment.

Warm regards,
Mrs Zoe Jobling
Deputy Head (Co-Curriculum & Partnerships)

8 MARCH 2024: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

United for Inclusion

The Truro School Community came together this week to mark International Women's Day. Designed to inspire a world that celebrates diversity, equality and inclusivity, Truro School marked the day with a series of events.

Mrs Bernie Richards, Truro School's Head of Religious Studies, led a series of assemblies in Chapel this week. Members of the Senior Leadership Team were asked to nominate inspirational women from history. Those selected were Mary Tudor, Serena Williams, Jessica Innis Hill, and Malala Yousafzai.

Mrs Richards also talked about the Old Testament book of Esther, one of two books in the bible dedicated to women. These remarkable women have all demonstrated an unwavering commitment to their beliefs, exhibited personal resilience, and conveyed a powerful message urging others to question the information they receive. Their stories serve as a reminder to take the time to understand each other and not always to accept things at face value.

Mrs Richards also hosted a thought-provoking social sciences lecture for KS3 pupils on feminism that looked at the evolution of feminism in developed nations and the move towards acceptance, tolerance and equal opportunity. Mrs Richards challenged pupils to think of ways in which they could support equality in our School Community and ways to help others feel more accepted and supported.

On Friday, Old Truronian, Lottie Millar (CO20) talked to staff and pupils about her journey into medicine and her inspiring thoughts on her work as a woman in a STEM area. Lottie is currently studying Medicine at Exeter University and offered some valuable insights into this field for our Sixth Formers and aspiring medics throughout the Senior School.

Elsewhere, the day has been marked with a show of solidarity and love with the #InspireInclusion pose being shared by pupils and staff across both sites. A reminder that when we value difference, inclusion comes from the heart.

Collectively we can all #InspireInclusion - International Women's Day 2024

8 MARCH 2024: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Celebrating St Piran's Day

St Piran's Day, the national day of Cornwall, is celebrated on March 5. The day was marked by the sight of Cornish flags fluttering in the wind and the delicious smell of pasties at lunchtime.

In a morning assembly, Mrs Richards honoured Emily Hobhouse, a pioneering Cornish woman and humanitarian and 1st Years started the day with some well-known Cornish songs. The festivities continued in the City with the St Piran's Day parade, where Mr Churcher and a group of brass players accompanied the parade and the spirited chants of "Oggy oggy oggy" and cheers of "Kernow Bysvyken!"

Special thanks to the grounds team for this year's spring flower display and for creating the splendid St. Piran's flag artwork overlooking the Trafalgar roundabout and the Garden of Celebration lawn.

Delving into DNA Interviews

3rd Year drama pupils have been studying the play DNA, which explores some dark themes related to bullying. As part of their project 3rd Year witnessed some live interviews with the characters of the play being questioned by our local Youth & Missing Police Officer, PC Andy Filkins.

Andy led very realistic interviews with some of our incredibly talented 3rd Year actors, delving into their characters' stories and portraying very real-life police custody scenarios. It was fantastic to see how well the pupils understood the play and were able to fully immerse themselves in the roles.

RS Trip to Wells

Sixth Form students studying A-Level Religious Studies enjoyed an organised a trip to Wells School to take part in a conference led by Chris Eyre, one of the Principal Examiners for their OCR course.

During the conference, students made the most of the opportunity, confidently asking insightful questions and participating in discussions on complex philosophical and ethical topics. They delved into subjects such as the Ontological Argument, Utilitarian ethics, and advancements in Christian thought, displaying a commendable level of understanding and insight. A huge thank you to the RS department for organising this trip; it served as invaluable preparation for the upcoming summer exams.

Lexie's GBR World Champs

We are delighted to share the exciting news that Lexie, our Deputy Head Girl, has been selected to represent the under 20 GBR team at the Fencing World Championships.

Lexie's fencing story began when she was at the Prep School and it was a pleasure to catch up with her fresh from the European Championships in Naples and find out more about her journey so far, along with her aspirations for the future. Head of Fencing, Lucy Jupp said, "Over the decade, Lexie has shown nothing short of the fullest of commitment to her training and competition schedules."

Book Club's Baking Bonanza

The Wednesday Book Club group showed extraordinary baking skills during the World Book Day bake-off. Each showstopping bake drew inspiration from beloved books such as 'How to Train Your Dragon', 'Paddington', 'The Highland Falcon Thief', 'The Colour Of Magic', and 'Catching Fire'.

Mr. Johnson faced the daunting task of selecting winners from a display of highly creative cakes. He commended the bakers for translating the imaginative worlds of well-known authors into visually stunning creations, praising the meticulous detail and thoughtful design evident in each cake. Mr Johnson congratulated all participants on their dedication, creativity, and extraordinary baking skills and awarded them merits for their efforts.

Celebrating World Book Day

Across both sites, Truro School pupils have been rewarded for 'getting caught reading' throughout the week with pupils given raffle tickets for reading at breaktimes or while waiting for lessons to begin, for their chance to win a book voucher.

Form Room doors were decorated as favourite books across the Senior School with nods to the likes of Charlie and The Chocolate Factory and The Gruffalo. By sharing our love of books throughout the school, we hope to have inspired a greater love of reading in others. In the words of Henry Miller, "A book is not only a friend, it makes friends for you. When you have possessed a book with mind and spirit, you are enriched. But when you pass it on, you are enriched threefold."

8 MARCH 2024: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Charity Show for Charlie's Star

Performing live in the Burrell Theatre, our talented pupils and students put on a fantastic line up of memorable performances for this year's Charity Show in support of Charlie's Star. The show boasted over 20 acts with a range of genres and styles making for an uplifting and powerful show.

The grand finale was the showstopper of the evening with all the evening's performers coming together for a rendition of 'I'm Still Standing' by Elton John. The evening was a great success and made possible by our dedicated pupil organisers- With special thanks to the Tech Team, Rev Helen, Mrs Kenward and, Mrs Alford as well.

Great Day at Rotary Competition

Well done to Lily and Pax who had a great day at the South West District Finals of the Rotary's Young Musician competition (District 1175: Devon, Cornwall and Isles of Scilly) which was held in Tavistock.

In the vocal competition Lily came first and Pax was the runner-up. Each sang a programme of three songs and both were praised for their musicality, story-telling and the stylistic range of their pieces. The adjudicators were composer Andrew Wilson (former Director of Music at Kelly College and now Vice-Principal of London College of Music) and Rosemary Turner.

Metal Extraction and Processing

Lower Sixth geology students gained insights into mineral liberation and separation processes during a visit to Grinding Solutions (GSL) in Tresillian.

Metallurgist James Goldsbrough quizzed students on their knowledge of common ore minerals and showcased the company's sampling and analysis techniques. Students observed the separation of metals through crushing, milling, heavy liquid, and magnetic processes. Libby R, Geology Prefect, said, "It was such a great opportunity to see and understand all the stages that go into producing the metals we use every day. It is a process that is so important but is not even considered by most people who use the products." A big thank you to the GSL team for hosting us.

A Week of Sporting Success

It's been another full week of sport for our Truro School athletes both in and out of the school day.

There was double success for U12 hockey teams as both our girls' and boys' A team were crowned county champions, playing in some very testing conditions. The teams will progress to the regional finals next week; we look forward to sharing how they get on.

Thirteen members of our Judo team from across the Prep and Senior School enjoyed the opportunity to enhance their skills this week at a combined coaching and training session at Kingsley School.

Outside of school, Georgia and her Duchy Dance Academy team have made it through to the Move It Shake It Nationals later this year. Well done Georgia!

Fenella recently took part in an ISFA trial in Cambridge for 3rd Year girls, where she was selected to take part in the ISFA squad and invited to attend the summer camp in August. What an achievement.

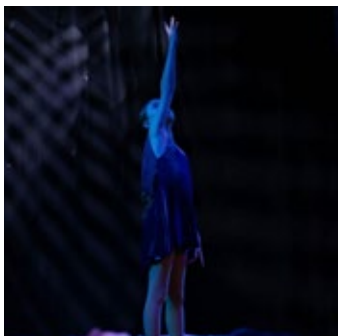

Sibling duo, Loki and Millie N were selected to play for the boys and girls U18 Cornwall teams respectively last weekend. Loki, making his debut for Cornwall, travelled to Bideford and recorded a doubles victory while Millie had singles win in Hull. Well done Loki and Millie!

Our U14 girls' rugby team enjoyed their first tournament at Mounts Bay last week. The team spent the morning taking part in a skills carousel with the players from all the schools mixed into groups taking on passing, tackling, rucking and decision making, before an afternoon of match play.

Well done to Josh C, who was selected to represent Cornwall Cricket U15s in Sri Lanka over the half term. His team played really well winning 3 out of 5 games.

Harriet S and Gen P helped their team secure gold in the Westward League cross country event. Despite the challenging conditions the girls showed their resilience in the field, well done girls.

We would also like to wish our KS3 and KS5 squash teams lots of good luck for their national plate finals, which take place in Birmingham next week. And good luck to our U13 footballers, who take on Trinity School in the ISFA cup final next Tuesday. We look forward to sharing how all the teams get on.
